

GOV. COX FAILS TO PUT O-K ON BILLS

Vetoes Fifteen of the Measures Passed by Recent Ohio General Assembly.

Permits Twenty-five Other Bills to Become Laws Without His Signature.

Columbus. — (Special) — Gov. Cox completed his legislative review by vetoing 15 of the measures passed by the recent general assembly, permitting 25 others to become laws without his signature, and signing others.

Some of the vetoed bills were stopped because of incorrect form and impossible provisions; others because they violated the governor's state policies or tended to upset conditions against which no general objection has been made. The bills that were permitted to go by unsigned for the most part related to increases in local expenditures, either in advancing salaries or compensation, or by the addition of new forms of government.

The most important veto was on the Billingslea bill which provided that the compensation of all employees of a municipal health department should be fixed by the city council.

The bill by Tom Reynolds to graduate the penalty on delinquent taxes was vetoed because the state auditors complained it would increase clerical work and delay settlements with interior divisions of the county. The bill by Smith of Cleveland fixing specifications for plastering was vetoed because it provided for state officials assuming duties that would be impracticable.

The bill by Myers of Cleveland to increase the pay of jurors was vetoed because it would tend to develop professional jurors. The Potter bill was stopped because it fixed such rigorous inspection of horses imported into the state that it would be unworkable and would interfere with shipments through the state.

The bill by Howell Wright of Cleveland to lower the educational requirements for nurses was vetoed because it was deemed unwise to lower requirements when they are already below those in many other states and because the relief sought could be secured from a rational administration of the law as it stands. This ends one of the hottest fights of the assembly between the small country hospitals, the trained nurses and the physicians in the legislature.

The "full crew" railway train bill, by Horn of Wayne county, was vetoed because of a blunder that reversed the meaning of the law. In some way the word "not" had been inserted so that it made the bill negative.

Other bills of importance that became laws without the governor's signature include the bill by Fleming of Cleveland that wipes out speculation in delinquent tax sales and gives the state the first lien on the property for taxes, and the Fleming bill that makes it possible in common pleas courts to have service of writs and summons by mail if the court grants the request of the plaintiff. Fleming also got through his bill legalizing the fire insurance rate-making bureau.

State Official Resigns.
Charging that the state board of administration has become "an extensive nonentity," Dr. A. F. Shepherd of Dayton tendered the governor his resignation as secretary.

Shepherd, who was appointed Feb. 1 by Gov. Cox, was a member of the board during Cox's administration four years ago. He holds a national reputation as a specialist along lines concerning the care of state wards.

"Any commercial corporation that tolerated the duplications and other useless work and the cumbersome business methods generally that now masquerade in this state under the guise of efficiency would be in the hands of a receiver in less than a year," declared Dr. Shepherd in his statement explaining his resignation.

"Until the public learns the wisdom of trusting its business to fewer men and puts some confidence in them, the cost of administration will continue to be twice what it should."

"I have always believed that when a man got out of sympathy with his work and felt that he could no longer be loyal to those above him, it was time to quit. Having arrived at that point, I have tendered my resignation to the governor."

Cox Signs Lake Front Bill.

Gov. Cox has signed the Fleming bill, thereby paving the way for real lake front development. There had been strenuous opposition from railway and other lake front interests. The governor issued a statement suggesting that the next assembly provide a commission of experts to study the lake front question for the state, outline practical legislation that would dispose of the trouble and protect all rights involved.

Extraordinary Record.

An extraordinary record of new corporations formed and increases of capital of corporations already in business has been made the first three months of the present year. A total of 987 new corporations have been formed in the state, and the total increase in authorized capital of the new corporation an increase authorized for those in business, with all reductions taken into account, reaches the high figure of $175,387,900. Only a comparatively small part of the large gain was in munition concerns or lines affiliated with them.

Had Trouble Four or Five Years.
Many people suffer from bladder trouble when they can be quickly relieved. W. J. Furry, R. P. D. 2, Salem, Mo., writes: "I was bothered with bladder trouble four or five years. It gave me a great deal of pain. I took different medicines, but nothing did me any good until I got Foley Kidney Pills." F. A. Morris, Canfield, Ohio, adv.

The man who can get no one to do his bidding would make a mighty poor auctioneer.

HENRY W. DAVIS

Senator Davis of Youngstown is the Republican of the committee to probe expenditures in political campaign.

Makes Two Bills Laws.

Gov. Cox has signed the act, passed by the legislature, providing a state home and hospital for crippled children in Ohio.

Gov. Cox also has signed the 50-hour week bill for women workers, the bill creating a state clemency board to replace the pardon board and the White-Mulcahy highway act.

Harding Made G. O. P. Leader.

United States Senator Warren G. Harding was made the Republican leader of the state at a meeting of the state and advisory committees. The fortunes of the party were placed in his hands, he being directed to name a special committee of nine, that committee in turn to select an executive manager for state headquarters. Senator Harding is to be chairman of the committee of nine and also chairman of the combined committee of 50. The executive manager will be vice chairman of both committees and will have personal direction of all matters and bureaus at state headquarters under the reorganization plan.

Rudolph W. Archer is fairly certain to be selected as the executive manager if he will take the salaried place. He was state treasurer under the Willis administration and is in business in Cleveland. Senator Harding will name the members of the committee.

Cox Issues Proclamation.

Gov. Cox has called on the people of Ohio to swing in on war preparedness through bending every effort to increase Ohio's food supply. Cox, by official proclamation, urged:

"That farmers through intensive farming develop every available acre for food production.

"That city folk plant vacant lots and make gardens on every foot of unused land available.

Cox's proclamation reads as follows:

"It is unnecessary to elaborate on the turbulent conditions of the world. We are so closely related to them that any surrender to the free and easy idea that things will turn out all right would be plain incompetence.

"We are mobilizing our men, conserving our finances, protecting our public works and resorting to the means of defense which experience suggests, but there seems to be no thought as to the importance of intensifying the energies of the soil.

"In our vast domain of fertile fields there will be thousands of waste acres, notwithstanding the prices in prospect should give spur to thrift, and an understanding of the importance of the element of food should stir our patriotic endeavor.

"A movement should be inaugurated at once in every community, rural and city, in order that the facilities which nature has given us may be availed of to the utmost.

"The banks are full of money. Credit is easy. Farmers can buy tractors on easy terms. There is no excuse for waste land. Every acre should count, and this spirit of conservation should take hold of the cities as well as the country.

"Food supplies can be grown on vacant lots, gardens can be turned to use, and those who cannot render defense service can be of distinct value by simple husbandry.

"In the same proportion that a family contributes to its own necessities, it will be serving the nation.

"Tractors can be purchased for the price of three teams of horses, or mules, and the output is considerably more. They can be operated by night and by day.

"We can, if we bestir ourselves now in the planting season, give a good account of Ohio.

"She has always done her part in times of hazard, and it behooves this generation, moved by the simple suggestion of modern devices, to make it worthy of the fathers who gave us what we have.

"I therefore, by authority vested in me as governor of the state, call upon everyone in Ohio to prepare to do his part as here suggested."

Back Lots Being Planted.

Thousand of back lots and vacant places here are being planted in garden stuffs this year, in answer to the request of Gov. Cox for increased soil production. Columbus always has been a bit of a back garden city, but the demand for seeds this year at the stores is reported more than double anything experienced before. Local seed stores have been hard pressed to maintain a supply. Back lots never before cultivated are being fertilized and made ready, vacant lots that have lain idle for years are being plowed and will be planted.

Safe Medicine for Children

"Is it safe?" Is the first question to be considered when buying cough medicine for children. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has long been a favorite with mothers of young children as it contains no opium or other narcotic, and may be given to a child as confidently as to an adult. It is pleasant to take, too, which is of great importance when a medicine must be given to young children. This remedy is most effective in relieving coughs, colds and croup. Obtainable everywhere.—adv.

PROMPT ACTION ON WAR RESOLUTION

No Dilatory Legislative Tactics in Senate Will Be Allowed During Present Crisis.

Washington, April 4. — Prompt action on the Flood-Martin resolution, declaring a state of war to exist between the United States of America and the imperial German government, was assured when the Democratic steering committee decided to hold the senate of the United States in continuous session until definite action has been taken on the measure.

No Meaningless Speeches.

This means that any "little group of wilful men" disposed to interpose dilatory legislative tactics, meaningless speeches of many hours' duration, parliamentary trickery or anything else to the expression of the approval by congress of the very definite stand assumed by the president, will have the question of physical endurance and a growing public sentiment against them to deal with.

The senate is not expected to invoke its new cloture rule to limit free debate upon the war declaration. It recently possessed itself of this power but there will be a hesitancy about calling it into use just now. It is felt by the leaders of the administration party, as well as by the Republicans favoring the sturdy assertion of America's rights on the high seas by force and arms—and this means more than 90 per cent of the Republicans in the senate—that there will be no filibuster worthy of the name against the war measure.

La Follette Halts Proceedings.

Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin, leader of the "little group of wilful men" referred to by President Wilson in his ante-inaugural statement to the country, halted consideration of the Flood-Martin resolution in the senate Tuesday by the parliamentary maneuver of demand the "regular order," which set the consideration of the resolution over until Wednesday morning. He was within his parliamentary rights, but nevertheless, black looks from all quarters of the senate and a growl from the galleries greeted his action.

There was a brief verbal clash between Majority Leader Martin of Virginia and the Wisconsin senator, but La Follette, adhering to his position that the matter could not be discussed Tuesday, was sustained by Vice President Marshall and the resolution went over.

In the house there was a delay because the Republican members of the committee on foreign affairs had not been selected. The Democrats of the committee met and today at 10 o'clock, the Republicans having meanwhile been chosen, the committee got down to business.

The readjustment of the house of representatives to meet the changes in party alignment give the Republicans nine members on the foreign affairs committee. In the last congress they had eight.

IMMENSE WAR LOAN IS DISCUSSED BY CABINET

Washington, April 4.—The problem of financing the war was discussed in detail at the cabinet meeting, and it is understood plans were considered for raising a large loan by popular subscription. A bill to authorize such a loan may be framed by the administration and submitted to congress soon.

In the meantime leaders in congress were considering the problem and agreed entirely with the president's idea that most of the expense should be met by taxation upon the present generation.

CITIZENS OF BUCKEYE VILLAGE HIT H. C. OF L.

Canton, April 4.—New Berlin has started a movement to combat the high cost of living with the opening of the New Berlin Supply Co. store, in which the majority of the citizens of the village are stockholders. It is being run on a co-operative basis.

New Berliners now go to the grocery store and buy eggs and butter practically at cost. Even the coal purchased from a mine nearby is sold to the New Berliners at about cost. The store handles all kinds of groceries, has a meat market, sells feed and building supplies and some wearing apparel for men.

Democrats Win in Chicago.

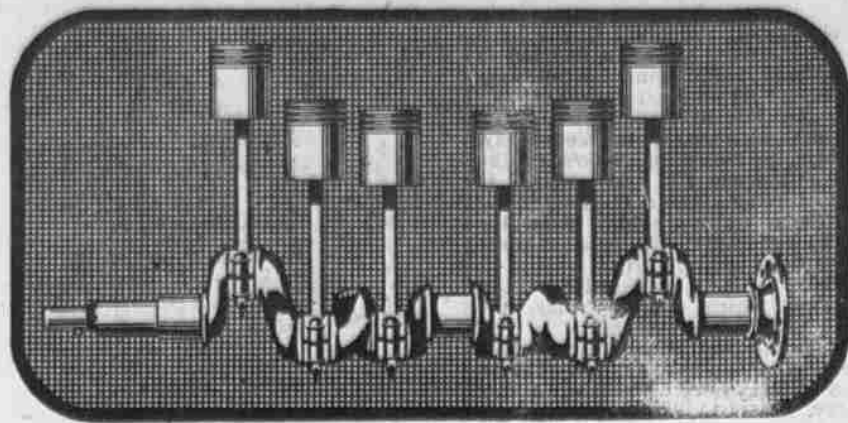

Chicago, April 4.—Chicago swung back to the Democratic column at the city election. Mayor Thompson's Republican plurality of 147,477 in 1915 was turned into a victory for the Democrats by pluralities ranging from 25,000 to 40,000. The Democrats elected Clayton F. Smith treasurer and James T. Igoe clerk, the only two general offices being contested.

Every Part a Quality Part In the Chalmers

Chalmers puts quality materials and quality workmanship into every piece of every Chalmers car. Therein lies the difference between the Chalmers and most other cars.

Here are three parts out of thousands in the chassis. They are hidden moving parts of the motor—the crankshaft, connecting rods and pistons. Chalmers makes them of extraordinary materials with extraordinary care and thoroughness.

One-Piece Crankshaft

The crankshaft is drop-forged from heat treated carbon steel in a single piece. Balancing weights are integral with the shaft. The shaft is 2 1/4 inches in diameter. Sturdy, but not heavy. Rigid. Strong. It is balanced while rotating at a fast rate of speed, on a unique machine. This helps you to understand why the Chalmers motor is so smooth.

Connecting Rods—Strong, Light

Connecting rods are designed to secure rigidity and lightness. They are made of special carbon steel. Are unusually strong and dependable. Each rod weighs only 41 ounces. Yet they will withstand greater stress and strain than some connecting rods weighing almost twice as much.

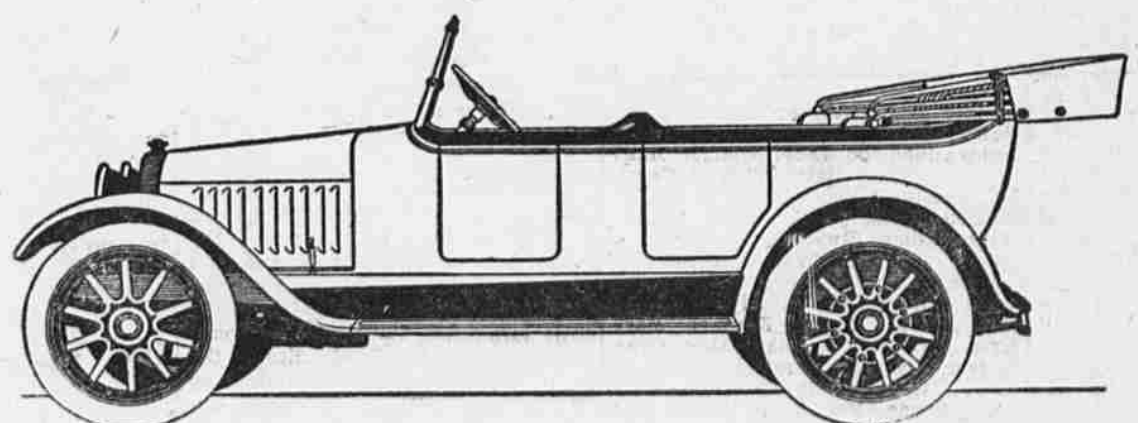

Light Weight Pistons

Chalmers pistons are of Lynite. A light and tough metal, about 1/2 the weight of cast iron. Chalmers pistons reduce the strain on the bearings. They insure the marvelous Chalmers smoothness. They make possible the remarkable Chalmers power.

All of the above means quality. The kind of quality you need in the car you buy, and the kind of quality you GET in the Chalmers
